SCHMIDT UNABLE TO RESIST BABY'S PLEA

Boston, Jan. 30.—Members of the Braves who reside hereabouts declare that Charlie Schmidt was forced to quit the team on account of his baby. Last season big Charlie was on the bench and suddenly looked to the south. One of the members of the team asked him the cause, and he replied: "I don't think the game has the fascination some folks seem to believe. When my kid said, 'Daddy, I don't like Mr. Stallings,' and then added, 'It's because he keeps you away from us,' then I thought it about time to quit."

Capital City Well Represented in The Professional Minor Leagues

Twenty-five Local Ball Tossers Earned Livelihood Last Summer in Fast Company.

FOUR IN CLASS AA

By JOHN A. DUGAN.

Twenty-five local athletes who learned to play the national pastime on the sandlots of this city earned their livelihood last summer in the professional baseball ranks. Not one of this quarter hundred of ball tossers donned a big league uniform but in nearly every instance they have given proof of some day rising to the top of the ladder.

Although none of the prizes of the Capital City was ready for or good enough Johnson's and Tener's big tents, a quarter of the best players in the top tiers in the Class AA leagues. This quartet includes Johnny Priest, who held down the keystone sack for Rochester of the International League; Johnny Evers, who played the sun field for the Milwaukee team of the American Association; Joseph Gelbel, catcher for the Kansas City club of the same circuit; and one of the best receivers in the top tiers in the Class AA leagues. This quartet includes Johnny Priest, who held down the keystone sack for Rochester of the International League; Johnny Evers, who played the sun field for the Milwaukee team of the American Association; Joseph Gelbel, catcher for the Kansas City club of the same circuit; and one of the best receivers in the top tiers in the Class AA leagues.

Of the above quartet named, Beal had the best season, playing one hundred and fifty-four games, in which he smacked the old home hide for a .334 average and played his position to figures which read .562. Priest went fairly well with the New York State club, having a batting record of .32 and handled 517 chances with but 29 errors.

Joe Gelbel did not set the American Association afire with his fence-busting but the Kansas City fans ranked him as one of the best receivers in the top tiers in the Class AA leagues. CAN BAKER DO IT?
Zeke Wrigley Says Frank Will Find Coming Back Hard.

Philadelphia, Jan. 30.—Much has been written about Frank in the last ten days in regard to the chances of J. Franklin Baker to return to baseball this year and play as good as he did last year. The fact is, however, that the veteran Zeke Wrigley knows baseball from the ground up. Last season he played alongside of Baker on the Upland team and naturally his views are worthy of respect.

"In Baker's favor," says Wrigley, "is the fact that he has always taken good care of himself. But he played on the diamonds last season, and Baker will find it different in judging ground balls if he returns to the American League ballgame."

"Baker has put on weight, and certainly hasn't added anything in the way of speed. He hit the Delaware County League pitchers, but they were soft pickings for a robust batter like he is."

"The only players I remember who retired and then made good on their return were Mike Dolan, Jim Callahan, 'Doc' Campbell, Jake Stahl, Harry Davis, and John Kling. There have been lots who failed to show their old craft after laying off for a season or more. In this list are Gus Ganss, Jack Kelly, Andy Coakley, Emmett Heidrick, Willie Keeler, Orvie Overall, Branch Rickey and several others."

TEN EYCK READY FOR WORK.
Syracuse Crews Will Begin Practice This Week.

Syracuse, Jan. 30.—Although the opening practice for candidates for the Syracuse University freshman crew this week has not been entirely satisfactory to Coach James A. Ten Eyck, he still thinks that he may have a good first year crew. Only forty-three oarsmen reported for the first work-out and a few more put in an appearance later. Coach Ten Eyck expects a large number of men out on Monday afternoon when the work of the year will begin in earnest.

The candidates for the big diet will report to Coach Ten Eyck for their first work-out next week and the coach expects a large and good squad.

Brooklyn Unloads Players.
New York, Jan. 30.—Joseph J. Chabek, pitcher, and William Zimmerman, outfielder, were released by the Brooklyn National League Club yesterday to Oakland, or the Pacific Coast League, in part payment for James R. Johnston, outfielder, recently obtained by Brooklyn from the Federal League. Johnston played with the Oakland Club before he jumped to the Federals. It was announced also that Leon J. Cadore, pitcher, is to be released, probably to Montreal, of the International League.

Giants Get Fed Outfielder.
New York, Jan. 30.—Eddie Rousch, the fleet-footed outfielder of the deceased Newark Feds, has landed a berth in the big show. It was learned today that the deal for the purchase of the outfielder by the Giants was completed at a conference between Harry N. Hempstead, president of the Giants, and Pat Powers, and it is only a matter of time before a formal announcement will be made by the New York club, according to an authentic source.

Columbia Holds Trials.

FOOTBALL COLLEGE CONFERENCE IN SOUTH
Knoxville, Tenn., Jan. 30.—Permanent organization of the Southern Athletic Conference has just been completed by representatives of leading Southern colleges which favor the one-year rule in athletics. ### PRINCETON EIGHTS IN THREE REGATTAS

Princeton, N. J., Jan. 30.—According to the crew schedule for the spring season, as announced by Manager A. M. Butler, of the Princeton University crew, only one race will be staged on Lake Carnegie, while two regattas will be rowed away from home, one at Philadelphia and one at Ithaca, N. Y. The schedule, now complete, is the most comprehensive that has been arranged for Princeton crews.

The opening race will take place on Lake Carnegie on April 20, when the varsity and junior varsity crews will meet Harvard. This race will mark the renewal of rowing relations with Harvard, interrupted during the last two years because no satisfactory date could be agreed upon.

On May 13 the race for the historic Childs Cup will be held over the Schuylkill River course at Philadelphia, as was the custom at the inception in the eighties. As in the past, Pennsylvania and Columbia will row Princeton, but with a newcomer in the race—the crew from the Naval Academy. On the same day the junior varsity crew will compete with the best eights of the East in the American Henley race.

LOFTUS LANDS JUAREZ FEATURE

Daniels & Hodges' Gelding Wins Fourth Consecutive Race at Mexico Track.

FIFTH EVENT TO USE IT

El Paso, Jan. 30.—Carrying 126 pounds, Daniels and Hodges' crack gelding Loftus, scored his fourth consecutive victory when he won a very close race in the handicap at seven furlongs, the feature of the card at Juarez this afternoon.

The winner led from the outset and although hard-pressed by both Whitte and King Box at the end, he gamely withstood their challenge. Short heads separated the three at the finish.

Loftus opened favorite but a heavy pull on Whitte caused his price to recede to 2 to 1. Whitte shouldered his impost of 126 pounds creditably but he was no match for the winner. Uselet, winner of the fifth race, was the only favorite to score. Summary:
